FINAL CONFLICT

Final Conflict is produced to offer people a political, cultural and economic answer to the forces of Internationalism.

Whilst most of our articles etc. are serious, FC does at times use humour and on occasion takes a light-hearted look at the world, for Nationalists must take a break now and then.

It is published by National Revolutionary activists and is Independent of all political organisations; though editorially it supports the International Third Position (ITP).

FC welcomes contributions from readers, which upon publication become the copyright of FC. Written matter should be typed in double spacing and artwork should be in black ink.

Those wishing to reproduce articles, artwork, interviews, photographs etc. from FC should first gain the written permission of the editors, and then publish the name and address of FC with the reprinted matter.

CHANGES

WELCOME TO ISSUE Seven of Final Conflict, we hope there's a lot inside this issue to stimulate debate amongst radical Nationalists.

We apologise for the delay since the last issue of FC appeared. This is because FC is an independent magazine and is self-financing. For the most part, it is finance which dictates when FC comes out.

We do not have big finance behind us like so many of our enemies' publications, neither can we rely on money pouring in from advertisers, as most are placed freely for our Comrades. The people who produce FC are for the most part unemployed or in low paid jobs, and whilst they give as much as they can - including the many hours it takes to put FC together - FC often has to wait until enough money is ready for the next issue. Unlike modern society we will not run on 'the never, never'.

It is for this reason we are launching a structure for supporters of Final Conflict so that everyone can do their bit. As well as normal subscribers we're starting a double subscription service for people with a friend who reads FC too. Both normal and double subscribers have an additional supporter rate so that subscribers can give a little extra if they desire.

Extra to these is the new 'FC Supporter' category where each supporter pays an amount (anything from £2 upwards) each month by direct debit. FC Supporters will receive a copy of FC each time it comes out plus a few extra freebies (magazines, posters etc.) and special offers, which we'll send out from time to time.

Thus the new structure is:

SUBSCRIPTION (1 COPY, 5 ISSUES) :

£6 - UK. £8 - EUROPE. £12 - ELSEWHERE.

SUPPORTING SUBSCRIPTION (AS ABOVE) :

£8 - UK. £10 - EUROPE. £14 - ELSEWHERE.

DOUBLE SUBSCRIPTION (2 COPIES, 5 ISSUES) :

£10 - UK. £14 - EUROPE. £20 - ELSEWHERE.

SUPPORTING DOUBLE SUBSCRIPTION (AS ABOVE) :

£13 - UK. £17 - EUROPE. £23 - ELSEWHERE.

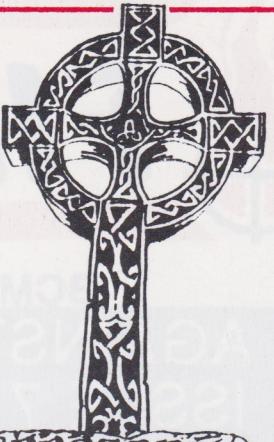

FC SUPPORTER

Available to UK readers only. Minimum monthly donation £2. For a direct debit slip, send an SAE to: Final Conflict, BCM 8358, London, WC1N 3XX.

No doubt some people, for whatever motive, will attack this new structure, but we invite people who are serious Revolutionary Nationalists who want to see FC grow, becoming more regular and influential, winning over more hearts to our cause, to help us through this new structure. We are serious about spreading the NR cause and winning back these Isles by 'doing our bit' to encourage more people to tread the path of the 'Political Soldier', but we can only be efficient in doing this if everyone helps as much as they can.

Needless to say we will still be pushing bulk sales as much as we can, and we'd like to thank all those who take FCs - both home and abroad - for without them the task of bringing out FC would be ten times harder. If you would like to take copies of FC to sell, please get in touch. We are at present looking for trustworthy distributors overseas as at present we only cover Spain, Portugal, Norway and Poland. We do have Comrades in other Nations who take FC, but we only have official distributors in these few countries. Again anyone who can help, please get in touch.

P.S. Due to the amount of material we've had to squeeze into this FC we've had to leave out a few things inc. 'Friends & Enemies' and 'Learning From the Past'.

NEWS AND VIEWS

VILE POP STARS

One interesting thing about the Naomi Campbell 1p (apart from the fact that it only sold about 175 copies) is the name of the producer. On the advertising boards it mentions the name Gavin Friday. Could this be the same Gavin Friday who was lead singer of the Irish band the "VIRGIN PRUNES" ? There has always been a close relationship between the rock band U2 and this other less known "alternative" band. Considering Campbell's relationship with U2 it must be the same person.

So what? you may ask. However, if you had ever heard this band you would realise why we raise the issue. Virgin Prunes were possibly the worst of the "ART" bands that came around in the 1970's and 80's. The subjects of this bands lyrics were sick in the extreme.. still born children, incest and rape etc The songs were not sung in a sick humoured way, but in a "so called" expression of art. They ridiculed religion to a new extreme and their imagery (for instance in the HERESIE box set) contained anti Christian graphics. This band often mimicked homosexual acts on stage and were all round sicko's.

The next time you hear U2 remember these facts.

PERVERT

Some of those reading this article may have had the unfortunate experience of seeing the GAY BYRNE SHOW (an Irish talk show) recently which featured a paedophile. Is there no depth's to which the Liberals will now sink ? To give this vile apology for a human being air time is absolutely disgusting.....and then for him to ask a paedophile on the show is even worse!!!

WHAT COVER UP?

Outside of Scotland, Birmingham is the only place where the film "The Maltese Double cross" has been shown. This controversial film (shown at the Angle Gallery) exposes the British and American Governments attempts to frame Libya for the PAN AM bombings in 1988. Since the Gallery started showing the film there has been mysterious fires and break in's. Did someone mention the Secret State?

REDS IN "KILL THE ILL" UNBORN SCANDAL

Some Pro-Life Nationalist's were sick to their stomach's recently at the latest show of Red sickness in their country. After some serious postering, days later the posters had been changed. Posters that stated ABORTION KILLS CHILDREN had been changed to ABORT ILL CHILDREN. The Reds were said to be proud of this bit of "agit-prop". Isn't it funny how those who accuse us of having the "Nazi" mentality, use the very same tactics in trying to silence us. Who is it who attempts to silence our legal right to speak and hold meetings? Who is it who wishes to murder those who are thought to be of no use to the "all powerful state" Certainly not us! Once in a while it does us good to remember those who we are fighting against. Like when the Reds put up posters mocking the deaths of the members of rock band VIOLENT STORM, and the way they are remarking on the death of Ian Stuart. These comments are noted and will not be forgotten.

MUHAMMAD ALI

Recently on BBC 2 a repeat was shown of the Muhammad Ali interview with Michael Parkinson. This has to be one of the best interviews ever shown on British Television. Right from the start Ali attacked Parkinson for slagging off Britain's fighters. But the best came when Parkinson attacked Ali's views on the NATION OF ISLAM. Ali showed no hatred towards White people but simply stated that all peoples were created differently and it is against the Almighty's ultimate plan for the Races to be mixed. Parkinson tried to get round this by stating that Ali had White business associates. But as Ali stated, this is just showing a complete lack of understanding of his (and our) message. There is nothing wrong with respecting members of another Race, as long as you realise that race-mixing destroys the line of heritage and cultural belonging that binds us to our Nation. A people that has no past, has no hope of a future.

When Parkinson questioned Ali's views on the role of Women in society Parkinson stated that he would have no qualms about letting his daughter wear a mini skirt Ali's look of disgust was brilliant! Ali blamed Parkinson's immoral views on the fact that he had no Faith in GOD. A classic interview and thanks to the beeb from all at FC!!!!!!

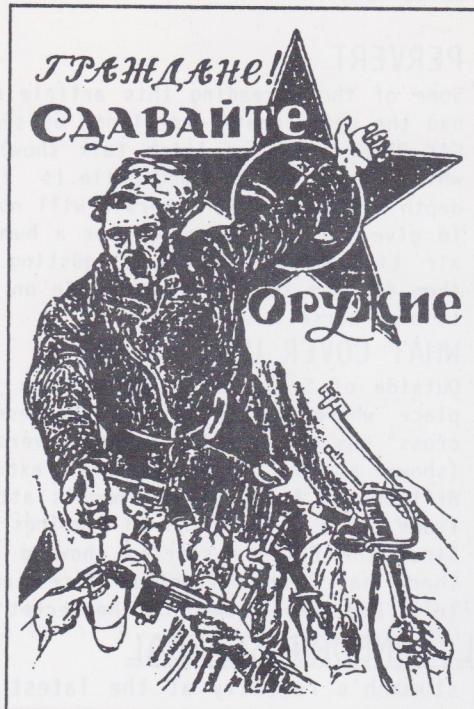

Nationalists, like any other group of people have economic power. We can boycott businesses, just like anyone else. We at FC intend to push boycotts of unethical firms. To start with there's IKEA the furniture store which advertises in homosexual papers. They admitted on radio that they do this as pools have more money (no children) and are "loyal" to pro-faggot firms. Also more and more book shops are opening "Gay" sections - often where children can see them. Boycott any bookshop with a faggot section but make sure you complain loudly to the manager in front of other customers. SPREAD THE WORD ... Tell your friends and family to do the same. Let's hit them where it hurts - the pocket. [More next issue ...]

GUN LAWS - WHO BENEFITS?

This poster was issued by the Bolsheviks in Russia, in 1919. It reads: "Citizens, turn in your weapons!". This is yet further proof that: the Jewish led Bolsheviks were against the people of Russia and that gun control is high on the Socialist agenda (even today).

WHO BENEFITS?

The New World Order will benefit - hence all the gun laws being pushed in Australia, the USA and elsewhere. Socialists, Liberal Democrats - whatever our enemies have called themselves, they have always wanted weapon restrictions so that the folk can never resist their totalitarian nightmare. Weapon laws will never stop criminals. In the UK we have very harsh firearms laws and yet criminal gangs in places like Moss Side and Brixton are using weapons with growing ease. One only has to look at the black areas in America to see where Britain is heading. Meanwhile in America when the people are forced to hand over their guns (or be annihilated - Waco style) the drug gangs and Big Brother Federal agents will still be free to kill who they want and 'defend' themselves against any 'hostile' force.

YESTERDAY AND TOMORROW

THE TRADITION OF NATIONAL REVOLUTION

THIS IS the long awaited follow up to the first Volume of Yesterday and Tomorrow, published way back in the early 1980's under the auspices of 'Rising' magazine. This book features Nationalist Ideologues, as did its predecessor, with the aim of educating Nationalists as to the true essence of Nationalism as well as giving the reader a taste of the many different aspects of Nationalism in different Nations, in different times. And yet altogether these writers, these fighters, these Traditionalist Revolutionaries form a whole, a vibrant message for today's Nationalist.

From England and Wales, from France and Spain, from Ireland and Italy, and from Rumania these authors call down the ages to us today. Be prepared. Be vigilant. Fight well. Yesterday and Tomorrow Vol. 2 is available from Final Conflict at just £4.30 (inc. postage in the UK) - add 10% in Europe; 20% elsewhere. Cheques etc. payable to: 'FINAL CONFLICT' at: BCM 6358, London, WC1N 3XX, England.

THIRD POSITION NEWS

The International Third Position has just published an introductory broadsheet which explains what the ITP is all about, how it is organised and what it believes. This document will go out to all enquirers.

A bulletin comprising of international news entitled 'Soldiers of God' has also been produced, the first issue of which concentrates on news in Europe, though Canada does get a look in. For a copy of the international bulletin or the introductory broadsheet, send two second class stamps to us at Final Conflict.

The second issue of the Nationalist student paper 'The Anvil' is now available for distribution. Copies go out free to activists in colleges, universities etc. throughout the British Isles. For copies send a donation to 'TPFF' at: The Secretary, BCM ITP, London, WC1N 3XX.. Issue 3 is expected in the near future.

1994 saw a number of conferences and camps take place. Guest speakers came from overseas (as far away as Canada) and delegates came from a large number of European Nations (both 'East' and 'West') and from North America. The first meetings of 1995 (in January) were also a great success with Italian Comrades giving slide shows and talks about subliminal messages to two Third Position gatherings.

1994 also saw the start of regular conferences for London activists and supporters on various aspects of ideology, Movement history etc. (eg. the first was about the Falange in Spain). It is hoped these conferences will spread to other areas of these Isles.

If you would like to help the Third Position in its task of winning back these Isles from those who seek to destroy them, you can ...

CRIMINAL JUSTICE BILL MARCH!

The Criminal Justice Bill is the State's attempt to push this society further towards a 1984 Orwellian nightmare. Of course for those dumb enough to believe BBC news reports or Sun editorials, it's a good law which will only affect ravers, new age travellers, squatters, anarchists, lesbians etc. But to those of us who live in the real world, this law means a move to an official police state which will affect Revolutionary Nationalists just as much, if not more so, than it will any "ravers" or leftists. Out will go our already weakened right to demonstrate; out will go our right to silence during police questioning (which will help the police frame more Nationalists).

With this in mind, Third Positionists decided to join the official demonstration against the 'CJB' in London on Sunday the 24th of July, 1994. We arrived at the assembly point in Hyde Park to find all sorts of assorted scum waltzing around. We dispersed and set about collecting various literature and sussing out who was there. Some of the literature was very good, pointing out the all too real threats the Bill held for normal people; but all too much of it was mere recruiting bumf for various anarcho-lefty groups. There were faggots, IRA supporters, Class War, ANAL, AFA and others, all of whom probably wouldn't have welcomed our presence.

When the march set off we toddled along with it, usually walking alongside it on the pavement. We sang 'Tomorrow Belongs to me' as well as a few historic continental and Loyalist songs. How we chuckled to think that so close to us were thousands of human dross who'd quite happily rip our heads off.

As we marched along, the lefties whistled and shouted whenever we passed ranks of the police (placed to stop marchers breaking off and to protect properties like Boots and McDonalds). Some even shouted "fascists" which once or twice had us looking around in surprise, thinking we'd been discovered. This tended to get us in fits of laughter. Even funnier was the couple of times we came across non-European coppers. Whilst the reds blew their silly, irritating whistles (which some low level Capitalists were selling for a quid each) we pointed, none too subtly and had a good laugh, much to the delight of the afro-asian coppers' White colleagues.

When we arrived at Downing Street a few marchers had stopped (we think that there had already been a 'flare up' with the police before we arrived there). Most continued, not wanting to get caught up in any trouble. Those who'd stopped were gathered on the left side of the street in front of the Downing Street security gates. Those who tottered past went mostly on the right hand side of the street. So, in an effort to stop more people, we stopped on the right hand side of the street in as long a line as possible. This helped stop a few more, but those determined to reach the safety of Trafalgar Square, where the march ended a short distance away, bustled past.

Meanwhile some folk started climbing the Downing Street gates, tying banners to it, throwing stuff and generally having fun. Needless to say officer, we didn't join in this unlawful behaviour in any way, shape or form. We definitely did not loiter with intent, nor throw missiles, nor fight with the riot police. No sir. In fact, when the 'gays in blue' were sent in, both on foot and on horseback, they didn't stay out for long. They quickly went back behind the security gates opposite Downing Street. It was clear that some of them wanted to stay out to play, but they were in a no win situation.

After the riot police went back, the assault on the Downing Street gates continued. They were being shaken pretty severely, but those things wouldn't have given way in a year of Sundays. Occasionally a few coppers would come forward to truncheon a few hands, but bottles etc. tended to throw them back.

A little blue box (a bit like Doctor Who's - but with windows), just behind the Downing Street security gates had a few coppers in it with at least one video camera. This didn't seem to worry people too much (only relatively few took the trouble to 'mask up'). A few ranks of police dog handlers and police on horseback stood ready behind the line of old bill with the truncheons, but there was no way they were going to open the gates to let them out (and let us in).

At one stage, March stewards tried to stop the assault on the gates only to be told to clear off. We joined in with shouts of "Sod off back to college you Trot ##### etc. which were met with cheers.

We stayed on for a while till things quietened down, then strolled off. All in all we had a good time - even the poor chap with the 'Ulster' T-Shirt who had to hold a banner in front of himself whilst in a throng of AFA types - and we picked up some useful titbits from the varied lefties present.

One of the lessons to be learnt by the people who organise these things is that such marches should not be restricted to left wing groups intent on recruiting members and pushing various "anti racist" front groups. This Bill will affect a lot of people - not just lefties - and to narrow the opposition down to loony faggot/trot/anarchos plays straight into the media/State's hands. Most normal folk will not be impressed by the usual lefty rent-a-mob who parade every other week for all sorts of obscure ends. We, the Revolutionary Nationalists, must also get out there and spread the word that this Bill is against the British peoples and not just ravers, travellers etc. We must fight the media myth.

One other point is that the van playing all the rubbish rave/dance music before the march should've had the plug pulled on it. The repetitive noise was off-putting to say the least. There was a decent band playing for free just across the way. The amps should've been handed over to them.

THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE LAW

WHAT'S IT all about? The media don't tell us much. For them the debate is about who started the riots in London; the socialists, the anarchists, ravers or ("God forbid") the forces of democracy (the police). This debate was a smoke screen to hide the bill (now law) behind, and who cares if the forces of democracy, socialism and anarchy beat the living daylights out of each other in Central London (saves me the bother - Ed.) the only point of interest is that the anarchists are growing in number and support while the socialists are loosing ground.

If you read the leaflets given out at the demos, you may at first glance think the new law is a good thing. The Reds claim it will make things hard for them. Hippies, travellers and ravers will also be hit hard. So we'll possibly have less Red demos, less noisy raves/festivals and less folk living on the road. Good news? But the law does not talk about just stopping Red/Anti-Nazi demos. It will also try and stop us in our activities. Raves will be stopped, but so will Nationalist skinhead gigs (as if they weren't hard enough to organise before this law). Nationalist camps and folk festivals will also come under attack. As more and more activists will turn to extreme and violent methods to achieve their goals. If a peaceful counter-demonstration against Reds on Saturday will land you in prison, some will stay home, but others will take another road . . . Burning cars/coaches of Reds before they leave may stop them attending the demo and will also hit them financially. Attacks from the left will also increase. The only people who will gain from all this will be the State, as they will use violence to justify their repressive laws, with more to follow. It will also help keep people like MI5 in a job (see review of O'Hara's latest book on our review pages).

The important thing now is for Nationalists to learn more about this law and let the people know what is going on. And what is going on? The story in George Orwell's book '1984' is what's going on . . . he only got the year wrong.

Send two first class stamps for copies of our posters which you can then photocopy and distribute. Write to the Third Position (at: BCM ITP, London, WC1N 3XX, England) for a copy/copies of their fact sheet on the subject. Send a stamped address SAE and any donations payable to TPFF'.

NF IN POOF SHOCK

UNFORTUNATELY over the years some dodgy people have wormed their way into the Nationalist cause; sometimes on the 'fringes' but sometimes in the thick of it. Obviously we today, the younger activists cannot be held responsible for upsets like Martin Webster the well known homosexual who was high up with the National Socialists in the 1960's and led the NF in the 1970's (yes he led the Front, though John Tyndall was the boss on paper).

Why these people get involved is beyond the comprehension of this writer. Perhaps it is as 'agent provocateurs' - after all the State is well known to favour homosexuals in this role as they are more open to blackmail - or perhaps it's the media image of 'nazi misfits' which attracts these social inadequates. Whatever the reason, we at FC have learnt the lesson from the past hence our insistence on the "Nationalist Creed" of Faith, Family, Nation. Immorality, degeneracy etc. will never be tolerated by this generation of Revolutionary Nationalists.

The past has seen some pretty dodgy people get involved as the Cause saught numbers over quality. Got a fiver guv? Then you're a member. As such it was easy for anyone to join. This is crystal clear when we look at Webster who had his own "homosexual mafia" in the NF and the Front was powerless to do anything.

For goodness sake, if you're going to have a constitution, a directorate etc. it's bloody obvious that you ban homosexuals from having any rights to join.

Only recently (as we publicised in FC #5) Patrick Harrington in an interview with Arena magazine (July/August 1993) agreed with the equalisation of the age of consent for homosexuals, thus recognising buggery as a valid "way of life". He is the leader of 'Third Way' and nothing has been done about this outrageous statement since it appeared. Third Way must be seen as a pro-homosexual grouping.

Well, after all those bitter lessons you'd think everyone would know better. Sadly not. In our last issue we looked at the NSDAP/AO in the USA/Germany and the ARLP in the USA, outfits which favoured homosexuality and Satanism respectively. Sadly, this issue brings us closer to home: the National Front.

A few of us at Final Conflict were around when the NF 'split' in 1985/6 and were familiar with events. We knew of Ian Anderson's attempts to weaken/water down the radical agenda of the NF. Sadly since then people have learned of his 'dodginess' at their own expense. Now Anderson is in charge of what remains of the NF an event in Birmingham has led to even more resignations as a figure from the murky past has reared his ugly head.

Peter Marriner is an odd fellow. He was described as the leader of the British Movement's youth wing and attended - according to British Patriot the old BM paper - (it is debatable whether he spoke or not) a BM conference on the 28th of February 1976. He appeared on the platform at a St. George's Day Rally in Trafalgar Square alongside the leader of the BM (Michael McLaughlin) and Lady Birdwood (founder of English Solidarity and publisher of 'Choice').

Mr. Marriner later appeared in 1984 when he was the NF's 'Regional Education Officer' for the Midlands. The NF at the time was still run by Martin Webster. Nothing too odd there, after all certain individuals are wont to drift from organisations only to appear years later.

However, there is a lot more to this. In the Birmingham Evening Post (2/8/77) it was revealed that Mr. Marriner was the agent for the Labour candidate in the Ladywood, Birmingham, by-election. When confronted about his involvement with the British Movement he declared that he had been an infiltrator all along. According to Colin Jordan (ex-BM leader) in Gothic Ripples (# 12, July 1984) he had warned McLaughlin about Marriner, but to no avail.

However, if we are to know the real dirt on Marriner, we need to look a little further back. In the Wolverhampton Express and Star (20/8/71) it was revealed that a 22 year-old youth club leader by the name of Peter Roy Hamilton Kerr had been blackmailed for over £1,000. Kerr had taken to luring homosexuals into public toilets and then robbing them and this was why he was blackmailed.

In court, Trevor Lee, defending, said that Kerr was a practising homosexual and had been stealing money in this manner for two years.

After receiving a suspended prison sentence Kerr decided to stop his thieving ways and changed his name to: MARRINER. It was later that the two men blackmailed him and he even went back to his toilet thieving twice to pay them off.

A report in the same paper a little later (6/9/71) said Peter Roy Marriner (aka Peter Roy Hamilton Kerr) had been jailed for the charge of theft.

But there's worse to come if that's possible. Gay News (#61 1974, page 4) featured a report about the Gay Liberation Front (GLF) and its activities in Birmingham where a Ray Jump and Peter Marriner confronted the Deputy Director of Education concerning the right of the GLF to talk to schoolchildren. GN thoughtfully provides us with a photo of Mr. Marriner.

So there we have the full picture: practising homosexual and "gay rights" activists; criminal and convict; self-confessed infiltrator of the "right wing".

According to Gothic Ripples McLaughlin of the BM was warned about Marriner and eventually he had to get rid of him. When he later ('84) resurfaced in Webster's NF Tyndall's Spearhead publicised his poor ways. We do not know, as yet (perhaps a reader might help) when Marriner then left the NF; but HAVE WE GOT NEWS FOR YOU !!!

Who do you think has resurfaced NOW as secretary and committee member of Birmingham NF? No you don't get three guesses. PETER ROY MARRINER (alias Peter Roy Hamilton Kerr). As secretary he does of course have the names and addresses of all members in Birmingham (and possibly further afield) - a sorry state of affairs for anyone even slightly tainted with the brush of infiltration.

Ian Anderson has been approached about this but in the words of one ex-NF member "he doesn't care". This has led to more people leaving the NF - even committee members. Perhaps Anderson has been told by his police bosses that Marriner must stay or maybe the reason is more personal. Whatever the reason it should now be clear to all NF members that a grouping which puts a known homosexual and probable infiltrator in such a powerful position (Birmingham is - or was - the NF's largest branch) and whose leader refuses to kick him out despite being confronted with evidence is no longer worthy of their support.

We have one message to the members of Anderson's and Marriner's NF - get out while the goings good. Leave the NF before you're tarred with the same brush.

READERS' LETTERS

IMRESSED

Dear Sirs,

I should like to subscribe to Final Conflict as I like the stand taken by 'FC' on abortion and homosexuality, and its condemnation of the anti-Christian ideologies of Liberalism and Communism.

P.N., Hemel Hempstead, Herts.

NO TANKS MATE

Dear FC,

Please find enc. my subscription to FC. A friend gave me #6. It's a great mag. What got me laughing was the back page "Is Anyone About?"

The reason why is because three weeks ago the same thing happened to me, but I didn't have a tank for a look out and so was arrested.

GULAG NEWS

Dear FC,

A victim of ZOG's "Justice Department" reporting having got 3 months for shouting at people of an "unwashed persuasion" I'll do 46 days in total. Hess did 46 years and they didn't break him and they won't break me!

STRAY MAIL

Dear FC,

about 4 months ago I sent you an order for £31 of books. More recently I sent you a letter asking you about my order. Neither letter produced a reply.

FREEMASONRY

WHY THE FUSS?

MANY NATIONALISTS may feel that the Third Position makes a big deal about Freemasonry, whereas its danger is small in comparison to the many other problems facing us. We believe that this is not the case.

Already many of the countries that freed themselves from the USSR, Masonic lodges have sprung up and are already beginning to show their power.

For those readers who don't know a lot about Freemasonry - a brief outline follows.

HUMANISM

In the aftermath of the failure of the final Crusades, some Europeans became disillusioned with religion and the wars caused by different religions. Many turned towards science, maths, philosophy and old religions of the east for the answers to man's origins and purpose here on earth.

Many turned to something known as "humanism". Humanism is a school of thought perpetuated by people who teach that "knowledge" (gnosticism) was necessary to help man evolve into a greater entity; a more productive member of society. Humanism would be the embodiment of a new atheistic standard, offering a more "enlightened" ethical code of conduct.

The humanists' truth was something tangible, incarnate and found within man . . . always evolving over the course of time. This new 'Babylon' carried with it the characteristics of the spiritual Babylon; its emblems, symbols and many of its deities. The difference between the two was that man would be at the centre of this modern version.

During the period known as the "reformation", lodges of different types were formed. These secret organisations were made up of those "enlightened" men who claimed that they had discovered the "real" truth. One of these men was named Adam Weishaupt, an ex-Jesuit. Weishaupt turned against the Christian beliefs of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits) yet learned from its discipline and structure. Weishaupt formed an organisation known as the 'ILLUMINATI' (the enlightened). Their aims were to "free" man from the Church's spiritual "domination" and the State's authority.

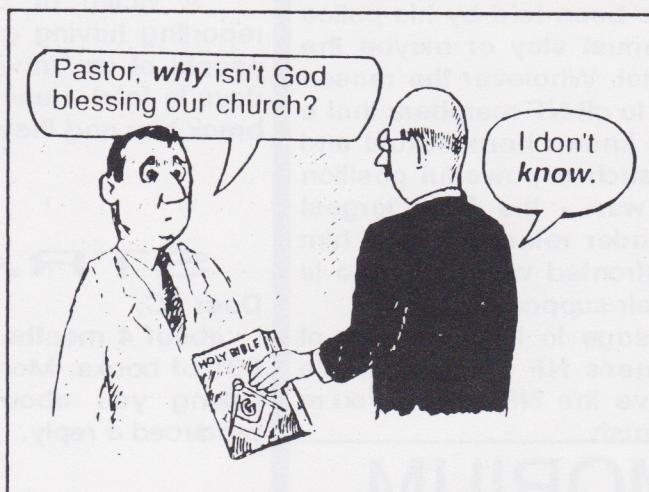

"THE ELITE"

The members of this organisation set out to accomplish this through the knowledge of divine mysteries. This knowledge was to be held by just a few - the elite. Theirs would be a secular religion which would "liberate" man from the world and its maker. They believed that the way for man's salvation was not through Christ and His Church, but through enlightening suffering humanity through knowledge. A religion of "light" created from the ideas and teachings of all the major religions of the world.

Although many of the ideas are gleaned from Persian and Hindu religions, the most important of the teachings were taken from the Jewish Kabbala, a series of oral teachings passed down throughout the ages and eventually written down when the Jews were in Babylon and their religion changed from the Old Testament based Moses Law to that of the Talmud.

The Masonic beliefs were centred around the battle of good versus evil. Unlike the Christians however who believe that God is superior to the Devil, Masonry believes that both have equal power (and in some cases that they are both the same). For Masons to be able to figure out the true "mysteries" of their God came the theosophical belief that their God was a superior physical entity and therefore to come into contact with him one needed to refine and ennable one's character, awakening "subtle senses" found within inner man.

From this theosophical thought came organisations such as the Freemasons and Rosicrucians. They claimed to have obtained the secret doctrine and set out to bring its principles into the forefront of the world's endeavours. These groups merge easily with one another because both approach man from the same philosophical point of view. They see science, religion and philosophy as integrated; all supporting the universal "Brotherhood of Man".

The men involved in these groups (and were supposed to know the "secret doctrine") were heavily involved in necromancy, clairvoyance and witchcraft. They claimed that through their superior knowledge of the Spiritual world of (their) God, they had separated themselves from the violent world "below" them. They were, however, far more involved than anybody could know. Immersed in all of this, the "enlightened" ones argued for the "Brotherhood of Man" but as with their Communist cousins their real aim was the control of the people.

SATANIC

Although many people joined the Masons for their own reasons, some perhaps unhappy with the Church, others the Government and some simply through a hatred of the established order, some people were simply brainwashed into accepting humanist propaganda.

The people at the top though knew exactly what they wanted. Weishaupt sought to gain world power through influence in politics, while people like Aleister Crowley and Albert Pike sought power through openly Satanic means. Albert Pike, the one time Grand Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry once said:

"That which we must say to the crowd is: we worship a God, but it is the God one adores without superstition. To you Sovereign Grand Inspectors, we say this, that you may repeat it to the 32nd, 31st and 30th degrees, the MASONIC RELIGION should be, by all of us initiates of the high degrees, maintained in the purity of the LUCIFERIAN doctrine. If Lucifer were not God, would Adonay (Jesus) calumniate him? Yes Lucifer is God!"

POLITICS

The influence of Freemasonry in politics should be obvious to all. The fact is that apart from a few Islamic States (and Israel!) all the governments of today are based on the humanistic principles of the French Revolution. An interesting note for Nationalists here is the fact that in National Socialist Germany, although a large amount of lodges were closed, many were simply told to "Aryanise" their lodges by implementing more Teutonic symbolism. In other words, their humanistic views were not thought to be detrimental to the State. However, in the majority of Fascist Nations (who for the most part were Christian) Freemasonry was immediately outlawed.

The best examples of Freemasonry in its true guise were in Portugal before the rise of the brilliant Statesman Salazar, in Mexico during the 1920's (and up to the present day), the French Revolution and the P2 control of Italy in the 1970's and 80's.

The French Revolution changed the world. It was the beginning of the so-called "modern times". The event itself was given many names: enlightenment, liberalism, secularisation, industrialism etc. The main ingredient though was the idea of "Liberty". Liberation from Religion, authority and duty. Before the French Revolution (in general) the mass of the people had such a love of God and Nation that anybody who held a different view was considered strange and untrustworthy. The Jacobins changed all that. By exploiting peoples' fears they destroyed the natural love of the people for their Faith and their country and replaced it with the humanist view of caring only for oneself. The leftist belief that it was a fight of the proletarian against injustice conveniently forgets the thousands of Christian peasants who were murdered because they refused to swear the Masonic oath of allegiance.

P2

The P2 Masonic lodge in Italy held control over almost every walk of life for virtually 20 years. Its influence is still felt even today. By enlisting judges, politicians, police and all those with power and making by them give personal secrets away as part of their initiation, its leaders were able to wave the threat of exposure over the heads of any member thinking of betrayal. It has been proved that the P2 were guilty of a wave of

FINAL CONFLICT TAKES A LOOK AT A NEW WAY FOR OUR NATION.

Many Nationalists have written to Final Conflict enquiring about the chance of a full explanation of the system of Government we support.

Hopefully the majority of Nationalists who are reading this article will already realise the objections that we raise against both Capitalism and Socialism are correct. However, many feel that the answer to these two forms of Governments is National Socialism. We disagree, as is well known. What is not as well known is what system of Government we prefer.

Our economic policies can be summed up as Distributism: Guilds: National Syndicalism:

Popular Rule. Each subject will be dealt with individually.

DISTRIBUTISM

Belloc once said that he could see no difference between a worker on his way to a factory in a Capitalist country, and a worker doing the same in a Communist country. Both are simply wage slaves who feel no real pride in their occupation, and no loyalty to their places of work. At one time in England small workshops were the norm. But the Industrial Revolution changed all that. The Industrial Revolution was a disaster for this country, by concentrating large scale industry in certain towns people were forced to leave their homes in Villages to find work. The emphasis was on profit rather than quality. The whole fabric of life in the Country was changed (for the worse) and we have been suffering for it ever since.

The idea of Distributism is to challenge both these wrongs. Families should be encouraged by the State to return to the small family business, to return to craftsmanship and therefore to pride in their work. Through this the family have more control over their own affairs and they have their own land to work and cultivate which is every man's right.

THE GUILDS

In the Middle-Ages the Government played a much smaller part in the Nation's life than is realised. The role of the State was to protect the Nation from harm, be it from foreign invader or exploitation from within. The reason why the State could allow its-self to play such a role was because of the Guild system.

The farmer who tilled the land needed help to ensure that monopoly of goods was avoided. Should a small clique of tradesmen join together on their own they could hold other tradesmen to ransom on prices and goods. The Guild system is a form of tradesmen's union. All members of a certain profession, (for instance carpenters,) would all belong to the same Guild be they Craftsmen or Labourers, and they would work out problems together. At present if a worker has a problem all he can do is go to his trade union representative who is so up to his knees in vested interest that the worker is simply another number on a list. The Guild system looks after the worker when he is ill and/or when he cannot look after his family. The Guild regulates prices, and ensures that no-one group holds a monopoly, whilst still encouraging personal initiative. Members are encouraged to mix with those of their own profession, so as to not only learn from those with experience, but to form a fraternal comradeship so that when times are hard members can turn for help, without fear of rejection. (no doubt some do join Masonic lodges simply for this feeling of comradeship) Another important aspect of the Guild system is its role in Popular rule, as will be shown later.

NATIONAL SYNDICALISM

It is obvious that in some areas of businesses the idea of Distributism is not feasible. For instance the Railways and certain factories.

In these circumstances National Syndicalism comes into operation. In many large Factories there are those unseen, never working Board members who only see the factory and it's workers as yet another blip on his computerised list of commodities. Those people who simply speculate by spreading large amounts of cash around various trades knowing (due probably to insider dealing) the best time to buy shares in a certain factory or profession.

Obviously, when shop floor workers see, or hear of these share owners making large profits and not putting anything back into the company it causes bad feeling and encourages the "them and us" mentality.

The only way to destroy the constant conflict in factories between worker and boss is to destroy that situation. Under a Third Positionist State, Workers would own, and owners would work. The work force would earn a basic wage, but would also qualify for shares in the company. Therefore if the company does well and shows a profit, then it is the workforce themselves who benefit. The workers themselves own the company and profit or fall by their own efforts. Once again, this encourages pride in the workplace and effort from all members of the factory. Anybody who works in a factory at the moment knows of people who spend the day skiving, while others spend the entire day sweating with little chance of rest.

Syndicalism puts an end to this problem simply because those people who are skiving are losing both themselves, and their workmates money, instead of the "unseen" middle-men and speculators.

POPULAR RULE.

Popular Rule is a form of Corporatism that was best shown to the world by Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, leader of Portugal in the 1920's and 30's.

As explained in the paragraph on Guilds, the different trades in Society would be formed into Workers Guilds for protection and co-operation. Having formed these Guilds, it would be ridiculous to simply employ someone to be the "head" of these industries when they all differ so much in outlook and needs. Therefore these Guilds have a strong voice in the Government through the Corporative system. The Corporative ideal gives representatives, elected from the Guilds, a say in the Government policies that effect their industries. There will be no more "jobs for the boys" as heads of industries. Those people in charge will be elected by the workers themselves. The motto of the Corporate system is "everything for the Nation, nothing against the Nation"

It should of course be noted that not all forms of Corporatism are identical in every manner. Some, in the past have tended to rule from above. However under Popular Rule the Worker participates in the decision making, when the problem concerns his industry and is not merely a representative

Popular Rule is the only system of Government that destroys class hatred, and gives workers actual control over their own workplaces, while still realising the need for a sound relationship between Capital and Labour.

SMASHING

THE PEACE STONE

IN 1993 A stone was erected in a quiet part of Scotland to commemorate a lone parachutist who landed there some fifty years earlier. Not long after it was smashed in front of TV cameras. In this article, Colin Jordan, looks at what happened, why and the 'legal' wrangling afterwards.

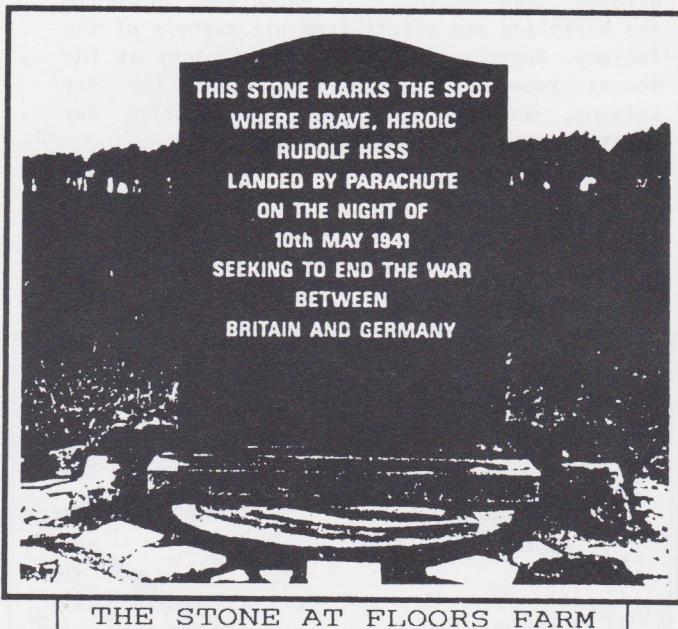

NOVEMBER 18TH, 1993, and onto a field at Floors Farm, Eaglesham, some 15 miles south of Glasgow, came persons carrying leaflets, placards and paint. Their objective was an engraved, upright stone (pictured on this page), placed there some months ago by veteran Nationalist Tom Graham with the permission of the farmer, Craig Baird. It marked the spot where half a century earlier another and much different visitor had arrived, descending by parachute at night. Whereas his purpose had been benevolent in its bravery, theirs was malevolent in its banality, pursued while the farmer was away at the cattle market.

Followed, as pre-arranged, by a television crew, the hate-filled vandals of 1993 proceeded to daub the memorial with paint and then plaster it with leaflets. After a pause for media attention to their handiwork, they came to their climax as shown on Scottish Television's news programme that same evening. Their Asian leader Ameer Anwar, West of Scotland organiser for the Anti Nazi League, a Communist front group devoted to violence, took up a sledgehammer and proceeded to smash to pieces the memorial to the visitor of 1941. The next day the Scottish Daily Record published on its Page Seven a photograph of this hero of the hammer in his act of destruction.

Despite this irrefutable evidence of criminal responsibility, Tories, Reds and other sections of the Old Order immediately closed ranks to protect Anwar and his accomplices, and mendaciously to defame the man who those five decades ago flew alone across the wartime sky to try and stop the Brothers' War between Britain and Germany. Lured by the stratagems of the British secret service, serving a regime intent not on peace but on exploiting him in the war of revenge against his country, Rudolf Hess was then subjected to 46 years behind bars before finally being done to death in a faked "suicide" plot in Spandau Prison, Berlin, in 1987 to silence him forever from disclosing the truth behind his arrival at Floors Farm.

Back in 1941 Churchill allied himself with Stalin, the biggest butcher of all time, in preference to peace. In 1993, the British authorities allied themselves with Stalin's heirs in the ANL in rejection of justice. When the local police at Giffnock sent their report of the criminal damage to private property on private ground to the Procurator Fiscal in Paisley as the prosecuting official for that area of Scotland, he passed the item on to the Crown Office in Edinburgh for decision. This is the department of the chief law officer for Scotland, the Lord Advocate, to whom Procurators Fiscal are accountable, and whose sanction is necessary for a criminal prosecution by the state in the High Court on indictment. The Crown Office refused this sanction, and this decision also then meant that the local Procurator Fiscal would neither institute summary criminal proceedings himself in the local Sheriff Court, or give his necessary sanction for a private criminal prosecution.

Thereupon an approach was made to the Crown Office for the Lord Advocate's requisite sanction for a private criminal prosecution, but this was refused by him also. While in theory one can apply to the High Court of Justiciary in Edinburgh against the Lord Advocate's refusal, in practise that court can be deemed virtually certain to endorse the Lord Advocate's decision; and in Scotland, unlike England, there is no final avenue of appeal to the House of Lords in criminal cases.

Neither the Procurator Fiscal nor the Lord Advocate can prevent a civil action for damages, but among the impediments to this alternative course of redress was the fact that the local authority, Eastwood District Council, had hastened to declare the memorial to be illicit as lacking and needing planning permission, and to demand its removal. There was also the fact that, while such proceedings could certainly be costly for the plaintiff, who would be Tom Graham, Ameer Anwar the defendant would equally certainly, as a "student", purport to be without means if the case did go against him, so that no recompense would be forthcoming.

The play of pressures within Eastwood District Council - whose area one journalist had the temerity to describe as "the Jewish capital of Scotland" - was indicated by the pronouncements to the press of its Chief Executive, Michael Henry. "We are appalled by the sentiments which the wording of this stone conveys," he said, to which he added that, if an application had been made for planning permission, "I am sure the Council would have found reason to refuse it." This local authority not long afterwards not surprisingly provided a public reception for a visiting contingent from the Jewish Board of Deputies in London in association with the Glasgow Jewish Representative Council.

When called on to cite the precise section of law relied on in declaring that the small memorial out of public view in a back field was subject to planning permission, Chief Executive Henry refrained from doing so. Consequently a complaint was made to the Provost of the Council who turned out to be one Leslie Rosin who in turn simply and blandly endorsed the conduct of friend Henry. When a complaint was therefore laid before the Commissioner for Local Administration in Scotland (Ombudsman) against both Henry and Rosin, this only brought the response that "the commissioner does not consider that there are grounds for him to become involved."

Separately approached, the Scottish Office in Edinburgh claimed that Section 19 of the Town & Country Planning (Scotland) Act 1972 applies to such a memorial, precluding its erection without permission.

Thus both left and right of the Old Order of National and Racial ruin joined forces in fear and fury at a mere stone bearing witness to the heroic arrival of ambassador of peace Rudolf Hess. The same fear prompted the demolition of Spandau Prison immediately after his murder in order to prevent its stones becoming a memorial to his monstrous martyrdom.

Yet in London today stones of memory of another kind, redolent of the foul forces underlying the Brothers' War Rudolf Hess strove to stop, remain intact and protected. We have in the centre of the city the memorial to war criminal Bomber Harris, mass murderer of hundreds of thousands of German civilians; and in Highgate Cemetery the memorial to Karl Marx, the spiritual father of both yesterday's Stalin and today's ANL.

bombings in the 70's and 80's, after the government attempted to lay the blame at the feet of Third Positionists.

The Church of England is completely riddled with Freemasons from top to bottom. There is absolutely no hope for them. However the small Protestant Gospel Hall movement (not charismatic - the 'happy clappy ones' - Ed.) are very anti-Mason and preach against all forms of Secret Societies.

ROME

As for the Catholic Church; at one time anybody found to be a member of the Freemasons faced immediate and automatic excommunication. However, since the council of Vatican 2 (in the 1960's - Ed.) it now depends on the Priest and his view. The Vatican itself has now been infiltrated by P2 and others. The only hope for the Catholic Church is a renewal of its anti-Freemasonic stance which would mean an end to the pro-liberalism Vatican 2 farce.

In a National Revolutionary State, all Secret Societies would be shut down and never be allowed to take form again. The danger of Freemasonry is a real one and those who do not take it seriously are only fooling themselves.

SQUADRON: COMBAT, BATTLE and BURN

I must admit I have always been a fan of Squadron however, although I enjoyed their first two LP's I always thought that they were capable of producing a classic.

Well now they have, this CD is way ahead of their other releases, first of all the CD goes on for just under an hour. For quite a while now many Nationalist bands have been releasing albums that go on for just over half an hour which really is not good enough (especially when the CD costs about £12.00) but for the last couple of years most LP'S have been longer and it really does make a big difference. Two other plus points are the excellent production of the LP and best of all the fact that the lyrics are in with the CD, something really appreciated by fans of the band.

As for the CD itself SQUADRON have really speeded up, they are now definitely influenced by New York hardcore bands such as WARZONE, AGNOSTIC FRONT, S.O.D. AND METHOD OF DESTRUCTION, I say well done to the band for making such a step, the last thing we want is for all the bands to be playing exactly the same style.

Some of the best songs to look out for are, DEATH BEFORE DISHONOUR, THIS AXE WE GRIND and the classic cover version of the Manowar song BLOOD OF THE KINGS. The only thing about the CD I didn't like was the fact that before one of the songs it has an African bloke swearing his mouth off, because of this you can't play it in front of the kids. However, apart from that this CD is an absolute must, and is strongly recommended.

BOOKS

BORN IN BLOOD:THE LOST SECRETS OF FREEMASONRY

by John Robinson.

Many Nationalists are finally becoming aware of the dangers of the Satanic Masons and their associated organisations. Both Final Conflict and Rising Books constantly try to make people aware of their aims and their role in past and present Nationalist Revolutions.

Due to this increased interest many Nationalists may be tempted to go to their local library to try to get further information, however they may be in for a shock... BORN IN BLOOD seems to be the book that most libraries stock to give info to the public about this secret society.

Those of you who know anything about this cult would expect such a book to expose their Kabbalistic and Gnostic beliefs, instead we have a book that is one long apology for this poor, innocent, persecuted minority.

The book tells how the Freemasons have been attacked since their beginnings because of their beliefs and how they are innocent of all the accusations made against them. Robinson goes on to attack Stephen Knights book the "Brotherhood" for its partisan approach. While Knight's book is far from perfect, it is certainly head and tails ahead of this effort. At the end of the book it even goes as far as saying how much "other" Religions could learn from this sect.

Robinson spends most of his time attacking the Catholic Church, and the way in which it strove to destroy the Masons. However, in a bid to prove his point he prints Humanum Genus (Papal condemnation of Freemasonry) in the appendix, and this proves to be the best part of a very poor book.

EUROPEAN FASCISM

Various authors.

This book was first published in 1968, and unlike the usual books documenting Fascism it tends to stick to research rather than propaganda. Obviously, it is in no way pro-Fascist, and many of its "facts" are to say the least way off target, however for the type of book that it is, it gives a great deal of information that is of interest to Nationalists.

Among the countries covered are Norway, Rumania, Poland, Finland, Spain, Portugal and many more. Yet again Germany is included when anyone who knows anything about Nationalism realises that National Socialism and Fascism are two separate ideologies that joined together to fight against Bolshevism, they are not the same and there are many differences.

The chapters on Hungary and Poland are very interesting, but for me the best was the chapter on Rumania. It included some excellent work on the Iron Guard and even the author had to admit that the majority of the members of the Guard were moral and brave. All in all this book is worth getting out from the library but as always don't buy it, as we don't want the enemy getting the old shackles. (ISBN no 297 76383 0)

WHO FRAMED COLIN WALLACE?

by Paul Foot.

Many Nationalists have a blinkered attitude to books written by left-wingers, this is unfortunate because despite their answers being wrong, they often expose the problems in an effective manner. For instance, the Larry O'Hara booklets about Searchlight, also Rebel Lines by Aarons and Loftus, and also many of the books by Noam Chomsky hit the nail on the head.

This book is absolutely essential reading for all Nationalists, however due to its contents it is extremely difficult to get hold of as it was printed two days before the the new British Official secrets act. The best bet is to try to get it second hand, or borrow a copy.

The book starts with Colin Wallace, born a protestant in Randalstown in Northern Ireland. Wallace was taught to believe that the most important things in life were Queen and Country.

Wallace believed that the best way to do that was to join the army. In 1968 he joined the B-Specials and became one of their top marksman, eventually Wallace became Assistant Command Public Relations Officer for the Army in Northern Ireland.

As time went by everybody who came into contact with Wallace was overwhelmed by his dedication and work-rate. Due to his work Wallace was made part of the re-organised information Dept in 1970. A new service was to work under the title of "public relations" called PSYOPS (psychological operations) Psyops was defined by NATO "as planned psychological activities in peace and war directed to create attitudes and behaviour favourable to the achievement of political and military objectives".

Psyops included the spreading of "Black propaganda" to make the press take the line that the military wanted it to take. It was also used against the civilian population in a way that will be revealed later.

Wallace was happy to do this as he saw it as just another way of fighting those that he regarded as the enemy, namely the IRA. For instance: A story was leaked to the press that the IRA were using large amounts of chlorate of soda in their bomb making materials which could possibly cause leukaemia or cancer, the story only had a grain of truth in it but it was then suddenly "leaked" that children had been caught playing with it in derelict houses. Even Devil-worshipping scares were made, to make the Catholic parents keep their children out of certain areas so the Army could set up observation points. Another interesting one was when Wallace took pictures of a large amount of guns and said that it was an arms cache intercepted from the USA on its way to the IRA. (Shades of the Poland-UVF cache here perhaps?)

As time went on Wallace became more and more involved with MI6. However in 1973 Ireland was taken over instead by MI5 and with it came a top secret offensive called CLOCKWORK ORANGE. Its initial aim was to expose the personal vulnerabilities of paramilitary organisations, both Orange and Green. For example they would find out who was homosexual, who was committing adultery, who associated with leftists etc... Clockwork Orange spread dis-information about Ireland on a level never seen before.

At one point even Harold Wilson was fooled into playing a part. The IRA had a plan that should Loyalists attempt to storm the Divis flats like in 1969, then the IRA would mount an evacuation campaign to get Catholics to the South, and burn the area to ensure their escape. Wallace and the dis-information group leaked a "secret document" that told of an IRA "doomsday plot" where Republicans planned to burn down Protestant areas in order to inflame sectarian hatred. Wilson gave this version to the House of commons.

Wallace's major contact was an MI5 man in London, on one occasion Wallace was given a document awash with allegations about the then Conservative Government under Edward Heath. This was the beginning of Wallace's involvement in a campaign by the Security Services to destabilise the Government. The Security Services felt that the Conservative Government were weak on the Irish question, and also in other aspects. However the documents also contained many references to the Labour Party and the supposed Communist infiltration of its ranks. Again they gave information on sexual perversion and financial misbehaviour.

Other documents shown at later meetings actually had charts rating the amount of a particular type of dirt that MI5 had on a particular Politician.

Wallace was beginning to wonder who exactly it was he was working for? Queen and Country? or an organisation set out to subvert the State?

The real problem came for Wallace when he was asked to investigate a man called William McGrath, the leader of a Loyalist paramilitary organisation known as TARA.

McGrath ran a boys childrens home in Belfast called KINCORA. Wallace went on to find out that McGrath and his partner were regularly sexually abusing the children, and forcing them to take part in sickening homosexual acts. Immediately Wallace informed his commanding officer only to be told that they already knew! The state were allowing the corruption and abuse of children to go on so they could have dirt on a senior Loyalist! Also the three major Unionist politicians in Northern Ireland (then and now) all knew what was happening!!! (page 132, 138 and many others) These vile crimes against children were allowed to continue by these self-proclaimed leaders simply to avoid the scandal. (or the possibility of them being accused of covering up in the past)

The book continues...., to cut a long story short, after Wallace left the services he was set up for the murder of his lover, in order to discredit any allegations he made or would make in the future regarding Clockwork Orange. It is obvious that Wallace did not commit the murder and that he was framed by his former associates.

Many more amazing statements are made including the accusation that the State plants hoax bombs to serve their own purpose. This is one of the most amazing books published for many years (first published in 1989) and is absolutely essential reading for all Nationalists, order it NOW from your library and find out how far the Secret state are prepared to go in order to achieve their aims. Despite Paul Foot's occasional socialist rantings one of the main things that stand out about this book is the fact that Wallace was a sincere Patriot, who although he did wrong did everything he did out of a love for his country, unlike those who were giving out the orders. (ISBN no 0 330 31446 7) If you have no luck at all, then try to get "WAR WITHOUT HONOUR" by Fred Holroyd. This book is also recommended.

THE ABC OF THE WELSH REVOLUTION

by Derrick Heame.

This has got to be one of the most under-rated books in Nationalism today. Although it was written from a Welsh Nationalist's point of view, the majority of this book is relevant to us all. The book is divided into short chapters on every possible subject relevant to todays Nationalist. For instance... Propaganda, Reaction, Monopoly Capitalism, Ideology, Revolution, Army and much much more. For instance, take the chapter on Fascism

"...had they (the fascist's) within 24 months of taking power been able to force through their syndicalist ideas for worker participation in large scale industry, the history of Europe might have been very different."

For the serious National Revolutionary this book makes an excellent read, and is a brilliant reference book for answering questions that arise. AVAILABLE FOR £8.50 (INC POSTAGE) from RISING BOOKS, BCM ITP, LONDON WC1N 3XX

TURNING UP THE HEAT-MI5 AFTER THE COLD WAR, by Larry O'Hara.

The main idea for this book is not too bad. In short, with the end of the cold war, MI5 found themselves without work... so they started to push political groups in Britain in such a way as to keep their jobs, ie watching out for internal subversion. Very clever.

Sadly for the author he is not always right, which then raises a few questions. Is he a stubborn, paranoid fool being misled by others? Or is he just a Red/Green trying to stir up trouble in Nationalist circles? Or is he a state agent himself? I don't know the answer to be honest. If I was him, I would jump to a conclusion, present my theory as gospel truth and refuse to budge!

The book looks at Welsh and Scottish Nationalism, Red Action and the IRA, Loyalists, Combat 18 etc. No doubts lots of people will find "mistakes" in the details (or lack of details) in the parts they know something about. For me this was easy. In pages 89-95 he mentions me personally a few times and claims that I'm a state asset and he promises to write about this in detail later. If he really believes this then I pity him and if not then I hope he rots in hell! For the record I'm an enemy of the state and all it's allies, I have not nor will I ever work for them.

The book is worth a read, but not worth £5. If you send £6 payable to FINAL CONFLICT (by recorded delivery) we'll lend you our copy. If you return it to us within 21 days, we'll send you £5 back. The other £1 we'll keep for postage. (UK readers only)

TAPES

These excellent new tapes are available from a new tape service called LEGION TAPES C/O BCM 6358 LONDON WC1N 3XX

THE LEGIONARY MOVEMENT

This tape is a talk given by an ex member of the Romanian Legionary movement. After giving a talk on how the movement formed, he goes into detail about the persecutions the Iron Guard suffered after the war under communist rule. At the end there is an excellent question and answer session. This tape is well worth getting, to hear from someone who was there, the bravery of these gallant Nationalists.

SONGS OF THE SPANISH FALANGE

Some of the greatest songs of the heroic Spaniards who fought for Spain's freedom against Marxism and International Jewry are included on this tape. Some sorrowful but beautiful, others uplifting and inspiring. This tape makes a real change from the usual military marching type songs and gets both thumbs up.

BOTH TAPES ARE £3.50 EACH. PLUS ONE POUND per full order postage.

DEGRELLE MEETING IN FLANDERS

At 7.30pm the people, mostly SS veterans, started to fill the hall in a small Flemish village. Everyone was gathering to remember the great Walloon leader, Leon Degrelle, who had died that spring and was a devoted Comrade to the very last.

In spite of Degrelle being a Walloon there were many old Flemish SS volunteers, who frequently have meetings in Flanders. I talked with one who showed me his Stahlem pass. He said there were get-togethers almost every week in Flanders.

At 8.15 the younger Nationalists arrived, like the National Student League (NSV) and Flemish skinheads. There was a lot of marvellous merchandise for sale such as photos and a video of Leon Degrelle, Afrikaner flags etc.

At 8.30 the gathering was officially opened with a speech by one of the organisers. His speech was short but powerful. He began with the words of our enemies - that we would be the builders of the fourth reich "Are we builders of the fourth reich, if we honour our dead? Are we builders of the fourth reich if we are against history forgery? Are we the builders of the fourth reich if we remember a great leader like Leon Degrelle?" By now I was thinking I was in the wrong place as I wanted to answer "yes", but to my relief he proceeded "If you answer all these questions with a proud "yes" then you are more than welcome at this gathering" (big applause). He then announced the next speaker who was the former leader of the VMO. His speech was longer and described the life and work of Degrelle and the Rex movement. He talked about a meeting in Spain where Degrelle talked for 3 hours without one line of text to read from, and fascinated the crowd from beginning to end. He talked about the murderers who killed SS volunteers who were sent home from the Eastern Front; Communist murderers who are honoured now and who killed women and children just for being related to a Walloon SS volunteer. He talked about the captivity of Degrelle's family for the same absurd reason; how his father and mother died in jail out of grief. He also made an excellent comparison to Rudolf Hess and his loyalty to the bitter end. After this speech the organisers played a cassette with a speech by Degrelle on it. After this there was a rest of 25 minutes.

This gave us all the opportunity to meet up with Comrades and buy some merchandise. I bought some things and met my Flemish friends who had just arrived.

Then a Walloon, who had personally known Degrelle very well gave a speech. He began his speech with "Belgium burst" in Dutch, which is a slogan often used by Flemish Nationalists, to express their feelings about the Belgian government and the wish for more Flemish identity. But after the first Dutch sentence I lost track because he spoke in French, which I only barely understand. When his speech ended the Degrelle video was shown which was excellent. After the video all the Comrades from Walloons, Flanders and the Netherlands were thanked for their presence and plans were made to make it an annual event.

TEACH YOURSELF NATIONALISM - PART THREE

THE NEW MAN

IN PART TWO of this series, it was stated that there would be no National Revolution in this country until such a time as the New Man came into being; a man who would reject the ethos of the modern world in its entirety - a world engulfed in an ocean of corruption and decadence - and would embody in his every thought, word and deed the organic and spiritual values of our new world.

The importance of this New Man cannot be exaggerated, for he is at the very centre of our world view; without him Nationalism is an empty world, a dead letter. The New Man is the central pillar of our New Order - without this pillar, all of our efforts will necessarily come to nothing.

Nationalists all over the world have written a great deal on the subject of the New Man, and there remains much to be written. However, it is vital that from the start we appreciate the essential nature of this New Man; he is NOT some racially ideal, God-like figure who strides across the globe building a perfect society with the aid of an infallible logic. Rather he is an extension of everyday humanity, the very real people who live now, but he is an extension where every attempt has been made to purge human nature of its defects, of its flaws.

That is not to say that we believe in the perfect man, but rather that we are seeking to mould a man who has sought to overcome himself, has sought for the good and true of his character to come to the foreground, to shine out like a beacon in the night. We cannot achieve perfection in man, but we can and must aim for a better man.

We must seek to create a Nation of people where tendencies towards greed, selfishness, hatred, dishonesty and envy are strongly curbed, and where the compassion, generosity, love and Truth that can be found in each of us is highlighted.

Make no mistake - the degeneracy of our culture and of our peoples is at an advanced stage. Half-hearted and belated measures will not stem this advance, let alone reverse it. This can only be done through the power of a positive spiritual commitment, surging through the community and through every individual.

Naturally, we cannot expect to create this New Man overnight, for it is the work of a lifetime: a talented chef, a powerful artist, an inspired poet, these are the products of endurance, patience, determination and a desire to succeed, and this is even truer of the New Man.

SMALL BEGINNINGS

Thus, we must begin this building process by tackling things that, with a little effort, are within our grasp, and which when achieved will give us the ability and the hope to succeed in greater, more weighty affairs.

We must begin by curbing the myriad little evils within ourselves, so that a fertile soil for the growth of goodness is laid. In theory this sounds the easiest thing in the world, but in practise it is the most difficult. We all know what it is like when we are tempted to do something that we know is wrong - and we all know too well how often we have lacked the will power, the moral courage, to resist this temptation.

Yet we who cannot overcome ourselves in minor things are apparently determined to overthrow a world of evil! The contrast could not be more startling.

DIFFICULT PATH

Once we admit openly that we are fundamentally weak beings - and the devastation of our once most beautiful world is the most dramatic testimony of that weakness - we can set about the tremendous task of strengthening ourselves spiritually, ways that will give us the courage to face the future, ways that will not change us overnight, but which will point us in the right direction.

For now, let us resolve to set out on the difficult path that leads to the New Man, and upon which our very national existence depends.

LONDON

The Third Position's instant response group were on the ball when a £10,000 reward was put up for the arrest of the Asian killers of teenager Richard Everitt. Posters went up on the estate near Kings Cross saying:

£10,000 WON'T BRING BACK RICHARD EVERITT - REPATRIATION NOW! and
A DEAD BLACK OR ASIAN, THOUSANDS MARCH.
A DEAD WHITE ...

Meanwhile the SWP losers put up nonsense like 'no more gang warfare'. No mention of Race Attacks there eh Comrade? In other areas of London posters were put up in French to commemorate Sebastien Deyzis a French Comrade who was killed by the police in Paris. In other areas posters were put up in Spanish by FC supporters which read "Race Mixing is a betrayal of your Faith, Family and SPAIN". These caused much annoyance to some Spaniards who took to doodling things on them, but most of the obscene language was in a badly misspelt Spanish - perhaps an English Red. The only bad letter we received in reply was in English and curiously enough part of it read: "If you cannot see beyond the borders of your own country then you are not living in the real world". Strange that when the posters were in Spanish and accompanied by posters of Jose Antonio - lived in Skegness did he?

In 'Irish' parts of London activists have been busy putting up posters attacking the Irish State's attempt to bring in the new Public Order Act which is targeted primarily against pickets outside pro-abortion MPs houses and anti-abortion rallies. If this law is passed, it'll make Ireland the worst police State in Europe.

Meanwhile in other parts activists have been busy putting up the new European poster and sticker. Special mention must go to the folk in West London.

Polish activists in London have put their first leaflet together concerning the Jewish lobby's attacks on the nuns at Auschwitz. This is a subject that has brought many Poles into open conflict with the Zionists who are so used to getting their own way in virtually every circumstance. The leaflet uses a Polish and English address in case some leaflets make their way "back home". Our Polish Comrades already have a small body of members in S.E. England and it is hoped that their first efforts will bring in new members.

EAST ANGLIA

A storm broke out when thousands of leaflets were put out by activists across East Anglia. Newspapers attacked the TP and the police were "looking into" the Nationalist presence. An excellent feedback was had from the leaflets, proving the area is ripe for the NR message. The usual Red rabble rode into one town a week after it was blitzed only to be jostled and even beaten up by locals, angry that these outsiders dare tell them what they can and can't believe in. Local activists have lots more planned for the area.

SOUTH WALES

After our report in the last FC about the memorial to Red Terror in the Spanish Civil War, locals in Cardiff took it upon themselves to attack this huge waste of taxpayers money. The local TV and papers reported how the monument was ruined by burning tyres. We suggest the local police look into involvement by Winnie Mandela.

One SWP activist who had his front windows smashed had an ANAL protest down his street- Arran Place - "against Nazi violence". The posters advertising it were none too kind to the Third Position. The ANAL drop-outs were clearly hoping some "Nazis" would turn up as a couple of heavies were in attendance. The recipient of the window breaking bricks is none other than bald old Piers who we also mentioned in the last FC. He really should have a protest outside his place of work (see last FC) as people there joke about how "under the thumb" he is. How sexist!

In a recent issue of 'Private Eye' magazine a letter was published from Peter Foley the Deputy Mayor of Bridgend. He moaned about "Nazi" activity in Bridgend (inc. the nasty Third Position) as a means of defending his involvement with the ANAL Reds.

ULSTER

PO Box 432 used by Ulster Dawn in Belfast has been closed down for the time being. Any orders for UD merchandise or magazines should be sent c/o FC. We will forward the mail on to the Ulster activists.

SCOTLAND

The Labour councillor for Shortlees Ian George, and a friend, went leafleting outside Kilmarnock's ground after getting some ANAL leaflets at a May day rally in Irvine. Unfortunately Kilmarnock were playing Rangers on the day in question and Mr. George complained that "the abuse we were getting was 100 per cent hatred". How sad that the councillor had all his leaflets taken by some assailant who knocked both him and his colleague to the ground.

Meanwhile in Edinburgh, the AFA toughnuts have produced their own stickers which pronounce: "f### the fascists". Needless to say these stickers are often placed where young children can see them. Oh how revolutionary. Doubtless the middle class students won't let mummy and daddy back in Suburbia know about their naughty stickers.

Local TP activists are trying to set an example by putting up revolutionary stickers with a real message.

THE SOUTH COAST

Activists have put out a leaflet advertising their home delivery fruit and veg business, in which they attack big business (supermarkets & chain stores), chemical farming, Capitalism, Westminster and Brussels. Prospective customers are told:

"By supporting the local fruit and vegetable round, you are: 1. Supporting small local business. 2. Buying fresh and healthy food for your family. 3. Saving money and avoiding aching arms through free delivery to your door. 4. Putting a human face back into shopping."

A good amount of customers have already been won over to the new round. This is a good way to defend local communities, set up Nationalist businesses, politicise something as simple as buying fruit & veg and thus win over folk to the Third Position - especially as so many customers want to know more when they meet the people who deliver their shopping.

MUSIC: A LOOK AT AMERICAN HARDCORE

The recent LP by Nationalist band Squadron, was quite a departure from the usual style of Music played by Nationalist bands in England. The original Oi sound, has for the last five years been replaced by a more Rock sound similar to AC/DC and ROSE TATTOO. However, could the latest Squadron LP lead to a new departure and the beginning of a different sound?

NEW YORK HARDCORE

The LP "COMBAT, BATTLE and BURN" is more similar in style to American "Hardcore". Fast music interlaced with slow parts, with anthem like chorus's and heavy metal riffs. This style of music became known as "New York Hardcore" because many of the bands started their career's at the New York club CBGB'S.

Although, as in England, the majority of the bands are left wing, there are far more exceptions. America, as a whole, is far more "right wing" (this should not be misinterpreted as Nationalist, more "pinky" hating than any thing else) than England, therefore the bands are not as political. If a Hardcore band in England say anything that is not politically correct they are immediately jumped on. In America bands can get away with much more.

For instance, bands like AGNOSTIC FRONT and WARZONE, would deny being Nationalist, and yet cover their LP's with American flags and sing about some very controversial subjects. The major Hardcore publication in America is called Maximum Rock n' Roll. This magazine is totally under the control of Marxists and Anarchists. However just to show they are "fair" they had a long standing Jewish Liberal writer (Mykel Board) who supported everything from Skrewdriver's right to free speech, to the right's of paedophile's. (I kid you not) This magazine censored Agnostic Front because they released a song called PUBLIC ASSISTANCE, which contained anti-Mexican comments.

Warzone bought out two great LP's and were certainly controversial. Most of their lyric's contained anti-communist sentiments, although as mentioned they thought the answer was "the American way" (sic) Warzone were constantly being accused of being big Skrewdriver fans, and eventually they bottled it and sold out, apologising for their fan's and bringing out a wimpy LP that nobody liked.

Another great band are SLAPSHOT. This band are still bringing out some good stuff, really powerful with gutsy lyrics. They formed another band as a side line, singing Oi songs and this LP is one of the all time greats. (STARS AND STRIPES)

Another couple of bands of interest to Nationalists are STORMTROOPERS OF DEATH and METHOD OF DESTRUCTION. Both of these bands have blatantly racist lyrics. The singer states that the LP's were actually meant to be a parody of Nationalist rock bands, however I think the joke was lost somewhere along the way, because by all accounts the majority of people who buy it agree with the sentiments expressed (It should be noted that the lyrics are not Nationalist, but simply racist.)

HARDCORE TAPE

FC readers who are interested in obtaining a ninety minute compilation tape, featuring some interesting hardcore bands, as mentioned in the above article, can get one by sending £3.75 to: Legion Tapes c/o BCM 6358, London, WC1N 3XX, England. Cheques etc. payable to: 'LEGION TAPES'. 'LT' is a separate entity from FC, so please do not send any Legion Tapes orders in with stuff for Final Conflict, or a delay may result.

STRAIGHT EDGE

MINOR THREAT were a Boston band that invented a movement, that became known as Straight Edge. This movement said that youth should not spend their time drinking and doing drugs because it is the Government's way of destroying the influence of youth on society. Many of America's young joined this movement and many great bands came out of it such as YOUTH OF TODAY and SICK OF IT ALL.

However Maximum Rock n' Roll did everything they could to try to destroy this movement, regularly attacking the bands and their ideas. Obviously we realise that it is as much in the Marxist's favour to have the Youth drugged up to their eyeball's as it is the State's. Eventually the movement faded, and there are no longer many bands preaching the message. One or two carried on but became far more left wing. One of the best were VEGAN REICH a brilliant animal right's band that called for the killing of huntsman!

For those interested here follows a list of recommended Hardcore LP's with an asterix by those LP's with lyrics that are of interest.

YOUTH OF TODAY [WE'RE NOT IN THIS ALONE]

GORILLA BISCUITS [START TODAY]

WARZONE* [DON'T FORGET THE STRUGGLE.] and [OPEN YOUR EYES]

STORMTROOPERS OF DEATH* [SPEAK ENGLISH OR DIE]

METHOD OF DESTRUCTION* [USA FOR M.O.D.]

SICK OF IT ALL [WE STAND ALONE]

AGNOSTIC FRONT* [CAUSE FOR ALARM] and the majority of their LP's are worth a look.

VARIOUS [NEW YORK HARDCORE II WHERE THE WILD THINGS ARE]

SLAPSHOT [EVERYTHING]

STARS AND STRIPES* [SHAVED FOR BATTLE]

CHUMBLIWUMBLY

Our reviewer was most unkind to the anarchist band CHUMBAWUMBA in our last issue when he accused them of "selling out". Nothing could be further from the truth. Why on Friday the 2nd of December last year they played the Empire in Shepherd's Bush, London, and any working class personage could've seen them for the mere trifle of £9.80, for that's how much 'Premier Box Office Ltd.' were selling their tickets for. Big fat profits all round, Comrades.

What some of you may not know is that Chumbawumba had one LP banned because it sampled songs by various 'mainstream' artists. But, dear reader, if you're desperate to get a copy just go to one of their gigs because the naughty rascals have allowed "someone" to press the LP and it can be bought as a bootleg. Make sure you don't tell anyone though, as we wouldn't want them to get in trouble over it.

FAN MAIL

SINCE FC 6 I've had quite a few letters bemoaning the fact that there was no picture of me on my page. "How can your fans recognise you" was one comment by one (slightly demented) fan. So to stop all the moaning, my picture's back.

DEATH TO LIBERALISM!

The mess that this country has become is a consequence of the liberalisation of our people, from top down. This is a fact which more and more people are recognising. To show how idiotic and dangerous things have become, look at the Liberal Democrats. At their last conference they passed a motion to give the contraceptive pill to girls of 11 (on top of passing another motion decriminalising cannabis). It is a fact that increased contraception leads to increased sexual activity which in turn leads to increased spreading of sexual promiscuity, sexually transmitted diseases (inc. AIDS) and abortions.

We must return to sound moral laws before it is too late. Let us kick out the liberals - Tory, Labour and Lib/Democrat and their precious party system (which merely keeps them and their Jewish/Masonic controllers in power) and replace it with a system which recognises the indigenous peoples of these isles and protects them.

A GOOD BLOKE

The FBI is investigating a claim made by a couple, who were so keen to kill their unborn baby that they were speeding, that their "civil rights" were violated by a state trooper. What hideous crime did the trooper commit? He spent 90 minutes trying to talk them out of the murder and then took them to a church camp where they were "subjected" to more advice. Perhaps we should ask if the FBI will defend the civil rights of the unborn child - for who but this brave state trooper is there to defend him/her from the butcher's scalpel?

WHAT SOME PEOPLE WILL DO . . .

An 'agony aunt' in a British newspaper (sorry I don't know which one as it was sent in anonymously) claimed that "approximately 300 British male MPs are circumcised . . ." We wonder if this is an effort to please their true constituents - the financiers and bankers who run the much flaunted "international community". CLASS WAR CLASS WARRIOR - NOT Regular readers will know that I often poke fun at Class War - those anarcho-tough blokes who so like to 'bash the lass'. Well, I've uncovered another gem from one of their own journals. In #23 (page 4) of their paper (from the 1980's) they are yet again defending another 'Class Warrior' from the capitalist ruling class media. Who is their hero this time? None other than the working class "lad"

Elton John.

This couldn't be the same EJ multi-millionaire could it? Oh yes, there's a photo of him for the CW supporters who can't read. And why were CW defending Elton? Because he's a faggot.

Oh it's alright to scream "Kill the rich" when they're heterosexual gentle males - but when they're black, Jewish, faggot or wimmin then the CW journal stands side by side with them.

Puzzling? Not really when you consider the folk who run CW are all middle class faggots too.

ANARCHIST "ANTI-SEMITES"

Someone you'll not see mentioned in CW's Sun-type paper is Mikhail Bakunin. That's not to say they don't support him. Oh no. They keep him to the pages of more 'theoretical' mags. How interesting then that he said:

"The whole Jewish world, one exploiting sect, a people of leeches, a devouring parasite, across all political party spectrum. This Jewish world stands at the disposal of Marx on the one hand, of Rothschild on the other. What common ground can there be? Communism of Marx wants a central bank and where that exists the parasite Jewish Nation will find means to exist." Ooooh. How reactionary! How anti-semitic!

Will anarchists be thrown out of ANAL, ARA, AFA etc.? Will CW etc. purge themselves of these fascist tendencies? We await the outcome with bated breath...

A DODGY BLOKE

A figure who has created a bit of stir is Alexander Baron. He's brought out a number of pamphlets etc. attacking Searchlight and putting forward his views on Judaism, figures on the "far right" etc. Baron is a pro-Talmudic Jew.

One of his latest gems claims David Irving is a homosexual. There is no proof of this scurrilous slur at all. We advise our readers to have nothing to do with the S.E. London Jew.

In the last FC one article, written by a supporter - primarily about an attack on Mike Newland - said Baron had been hospitalised - possibly by Searchlight, Jews, or the State. We have Baron's word for this. We as yet have no proof of this (unless he sends it in).

Another worrying aspect of Baron is his 'gift' for using what can only be described as pornographic material. I have only seen one of his leaflets which featured a most unwholesome cartoon featuring Gerry Gable (Searchlight), Steve Brady (ex-Flag NF, now Revolutionary Conservative Caucus) and Sonja Gable (Gerry's wife and ex-NF "Infiltrator"). From what I've heard some of his other tracts leave little to the imagination. This is all typically

Talmudic.

Now it could well be that Baron is just an honest Jew (yeah, right) who doesn't like Searchlight. But it could also be that we are witnessing yet another Jewish smear/disinformation tool being set up by persons unknown. Given his latest smear against David Irving, I highly suspect the latter. As with all disinformation centres, the lies must, from time to time, mingle with the truth if they are to be taken in.

The State (MI5, MI6 etc.) are well known to operate several bodies at once in any particular sphere; often opposing bodies to the outside world. I do not know where Baron fits into the scheme of things, but I'm warning FC readers nonetheless.

"SAINT" DEADY FREDDIE

According to David Wigg of the Daily Mail, Freddie Mercury must be "looking down from the heavens" as his former girlfriend Mary Austin and Jim Hutton - his faggot partner when he died - squabble over what he left behind.

It's more likely that the faggot Mercury is roasting in the pits of Hell along with other deceased poofs. He's probably preparing a place for "Mr." Hutton there.

Hutton was a hairdresser (I kid you not) at the Savoy before he became 'Dead Freddie's' gardener, though I understand he'd been practising 'uphill' gardening for some time.

JEWISH 'STAR'

In an old FC I chastised Dani Behr for saying that she'd only date blacks. This, as I suspected was multi-racial propaganda as her latest boyfriend is White. But it seems that Dani is 'mixing it' anyway as her race is quite definitely descended from the Khazar tribe. (That means she's Jewish thicky). I hope that Ms. Behr now keeps to her word and quits Aryan men, though given her peoples' fondness for breaking their oaths (and embezzlement and clipping coins etc. etc.) I don't hold out much hope.
